

Volunteer at Materials for the Arts

The Materials for the Arts (MFTA) warehouse needs your help! Embark on a fun-filled day of unpacking and sorting donated materials which may include office supplies, trim and notion, fabric, arts and crafts, and so much more at New York City's premier creative reuse center!

Volunteers will have the opportunity to engage in a general overview of MFTA, partake in a tour, and lastly, roll up their sleeves and get their hands dirty! This two-hour experience will allow your team to learn the innerworkings of this city program while making a direct impact on your city's cultural landscape.

Individuals are welcome to volunteer at our warehouse every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 10am to 5pm after coordinating with our Volunteer Coordinator for approval.

Don't let our connection end here! Build a spark with vital city program by emailing volunteer@mfta.nyc.gov to learn how you can get involved. If getting sweaty isn't your thing, you're welcome to visit our warehouse for a team-curated art activation, please reach out to education@mfta.nyc.gov.

Materials for the Arts is a program of the Department of Cultural Affairs and New York City's premier creative reuse center, which provides NYC arts nonprofits, public schools, and City agencies with access to free materials. We strive to keep these valuable items from entering the landfill and put them into the hands of New Yorkers across the five boroughs.
